

Seeing the Social World

We are seeking children ages 4-10 for a study at Stony Brook University Department of Psychology.

At the Stony Brook University Social Competence & Treatment Lab, we are conducting a research study on how children with an ASD see and perceive their peers and the social world.

The activities for the study will be as follows:
Parents and children will attend 2 visits.

The first visit will take 2 hours,
and the second will take 1 hour.

Parents and children will complete questionnaires.

Children will complete intellectual, diagnostic and perceptual tests.

The potential benefits of the study are:

Families will help us to better understand how children with an ASD see the world and create future interventions.

Participants will receive a $25 gift card as thanks for their participation.

We would be delighted if you would participate in this study.
However, participation in the study is TOTALLY voluntary!

For more information, and to learn if you may qualify for this study:

Call: (631) 632-7857

Email: lernerlab@stonybrook.edu
www.lernerlab.com

Thank you!